Choose a moment in your life when emotions were high. Imagine that moment in your life as a moment in a musical. Write some lyrics to the song and describe what it would sound like.

Name: __________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________
__________________________________________________________________________